REMARKS

By this amendment claim 1 is cancelled without prejudice. Claims 2 through 6 are new.

Further by this amendment the specification has been amended to correct discovered typographical and formatting errors.

A new abstract is included as a replacement for the original abstract that has been objected to by the examiner.

Claim 2 renders the scope of the invention ascertainable and definite through the description of the specific food holding means having a predetermined bag shape. The towlette is further described as solely a hand cleaning means. This integration of hand cleaning means with a packaging means provides an additional function to the packaging means.

Claims 3 through 6 are now dependent from an allowable claim and should also be allowable.

By this amendment applicant verily believes that all presently pending claims are allowable, and the Examiner's allowance is therefore respectively solicited.

Respectively submitted,

Peter Sedgwick Snedeker
